

-FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE -
Mesa, AZ - February 2017 -

Naughty Ned and Wild Hair Sue

Sue's hair knot, Ned,
grows out of control

Softcover • 30 pages • 8.5 x 8.5 • $9.95

- ISBN 13: 978-0-692-84555-4
- LCCN: 2017902074

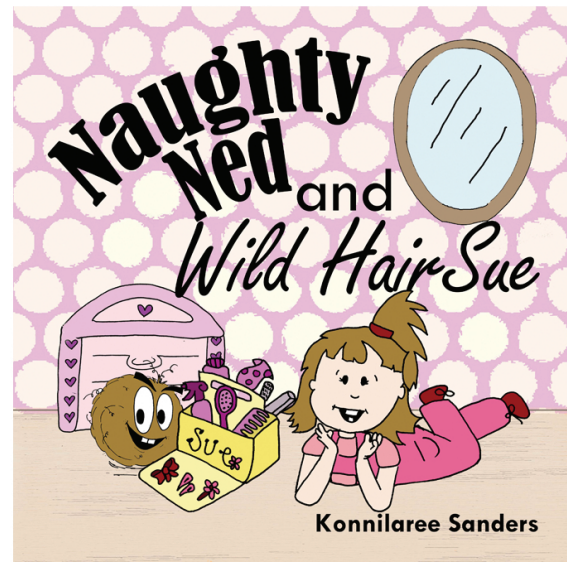

www.storiesbymom.com

Juvenile Fiction | Imagination & Play | Self-Reliance

Grade Level: 1

First Printing: 2017

Printed in the United States of America

"Naughty Ned and Wild Hair Sue" is a silly story in a child's make-believe world. We all know the importance of good grooming habits, but sometimes it takes a harebrained story to remind us.

This book helps children with the idea of being in control of their own grooming habits.

About the Book: The story begins with a wild little Sue. She loves to play, and her hair loves to tangle. One day her favorite kite snags her hair. Her mom was able to pull it out, but Sue refused to let her mom brush it. She had enough hair tugging for one day. She tried to conceal her messy locks. But, each day her hair tangled, and snarled, and kinked until a formidable hair knot formed. She named him Ned. But, after a troublesome dream that Ned was alive, she knew he had to go. From that day forward, she would always brush her hair.

Available February 2017

About Konnilaree Sanders:

Konnilarree Sanders is a mother of two from Mesa, AZ. She is the author of, "I Miss You All Day All Week." Konnilaree writes and illustrates children stories inspired by her own kids. She writes about their imagination, feelings, and reactions to the world around them. Her stories combine her real life experiences and artistic imagination to create a world that both kids and adults can relate to.

Books may be purchased directly from:
Stories By Mom

Retail and credit card sales available at:
www.storiesbymom.com
Reseller Discounts Available
www.ingramcontent.com

Contact: Info@storiesbymom.com